

Psychology Summer Work

- Find the programme “Three Identical Strangers” which is on Netflix and All4/4OD.
- At the heart of nearly every behaviour we study in psychology is the debate of whether our behaviour is caused by nature (genes/biology) or nurture (upbringing/environment).
- Watch the film and use the evidence presented in the film to decide on whether you think the behaviours displayed by the 3 brothers are evidence of nature or nurture.
- You need to write a summary of your thoughts, using evidence from the film to support your conclusions
- You have been provided with the Approaches hand-outs from our induction session please read through and write up small summaries of each approach in preparation for our first topic in September. The summary will need to include; the main assumption of the approach, example of psychological theory/research from that approach and one strength and weakness.
