Where's Your Creativity? by Marika Maijala

As designers, we know that creativity can come from infinite places and this charmingly illustrated book by Finnish illustrator Marika Maijala confirms that. It looks outside the box and explores the ways that creative kids can express themselves—through dance, food and music, to name just a few.

Shapes, Colours, Numbers by Dario Zeruto

Gorgeously minimal in its design, this book by Cuban artist Dario Zeruto encourages learning through opening and closing flaps to see how colours and shapes you can find. Then the play begins and the flaps can be used to create your own design. Stylish and simple.
